JUST ONE VOICE

Raised to Cheer the Nominee of the Chicago Convention

IN FRONT OF REGISTER OFFICE

Yesterday afternoon—in marked contrast with the mighty enthusiasm with which Major McKinley's Success was received—A Movement to Form a Sound Money Club in Wheeling—Rumor that the States-Zettling is in Flap.

The news of the nomination of the Nebraska Populist-Democrat or Democrat-Populist, Bryan, by the Chicago convention yesterday afternoon, was received by Wheeling Democrats with an entire lack of enthusiasm. In front of the Register office, where bulletins were displayed, probably 100 people were on hand when the nomination was made. There was only a buzz of excited conversation, not a particle of the enthusiasm with which local followers of the party of Jackson and Jefferson have in the past welcomed the news of the elevation of Seymour, Tilden, Hancock, and Cleveland.

One man was heard to say: "Who is this man Bryan?" Finally one whose partisan zeal was not entirely consumed in the avalanche of an Democratic doctrine that has been launched by the Chicago gathering, gave a yell and added: "Well, I am going to yell for Bryan if nobody else does."

Among the Democrats of standing in Wheeling there is scarcely a single supporter of the work and candidate of the national convention. The sound money sentiment, in fact, is so strong that it is said a Democratic sound money club will be organized within a few days. Democrats of the sound money persuasion believe that a sound money Democratic party will be launched in a few days and they are getting ready to join the movement.

An interesting rumor was in persistent circulation last evening. It was to the effect that Colonel Louis Colmar, editor and proprietor of the West Virginia States-Zettling, would follow in the footsteps of Washington Hosing, of the Chicago States-Zettling, and throw off the bonds that unite the policy of his paper with the free silver ridden Democratic party.

An Intelligence reporter saw Colonel Colmar last evening and asked him as to the truth of the rumor.

"I have nothing to say," replied the genial colonel.

"Will you 'flop' in to-morrow's issue?" "I have nothing to say," was repeated with the emphasis which Senator Hosing uses when he tells conventions: "I am a Democrat."

However, the rumor has gained such general circulation that there is hardly any doubt but that the States-Zettling will take her step outlined.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

Triadelphia District Chooses Trustees and Elects Teachers.

The Triadelphia district board of education met in regular annual session and transacted business of general interest. W. S. Maxwell was re-elected secretary. The following trustees were appointed to serve three years: No. 1, Harry Kimmins; No. 2, Samuel Abercrombie; No. 3, Randolph Fisher; No. 4, Samuel Hedges; No. 5, John Robby; No. 7, John T. Hand; No. 9, J. H. Kirk; No. 10, William Baird; No. 12, Ward Gilles; No. 13, Hiram White.

It was found necessary to employ twenty-five teachers. The levy for teachers' fund was reduced to 53 cents on $100, and the building fund retained at 25 cents. Mathematical blocks were purchased for each school.

The following teachers were elected for the ensuing term:

Triadelphia—Principal, J. C. Lewis; first assistant, E. E. Farrow; second assistant, Nellie Kramme; third assistant, Minnie Wallace.

Elm Grove—Principal, J. C. Maxwell; first assistant, Jennie Hervey; second assistant, Mand Wharton; third assistant, Jane McCoy.

Whitfield—Principal, J. D. Muldoon; first assistant, Anne Carter.

Leatherwood—Principal, George Bliggs; assistant, Addie Brown.

School was ordered to begin the first Monday in September, the 7th.

Recessional anthem—"The Radiant Moon"
Partible in D minor—Gutmann
Paris R. Myers, Organist and Director.

A Horse Injured.

Yesterday evening about 6 o'clock, one of Bremer & Mabis' driving mares had its left flank torn open, in a collision with the shaft of a runaway horse and rig owned by Tucker, the paper dealer. The injured horse was ridden by a small boy, and both were thrown on the pavement, but the boy was not hurt. The horse bled profusely, and it was taken to Erie's livery stable, where Dr. Petrie sewed up the cut, which was nearly six inches long. The runaway horse was untied, and becoming frightened at the street sprinkler, on Market street, dashed up Eighteenth a short distance, where the accident occurred.

He was Knocked Down.

Yesterday morning about eleven o'clock a fourteen-year-old son of Louis C. Genther, of Alley H, while trying to get out of the way of a street car, was knocked down and run over by a rig driven by Tucker, the paper dealer. The accident occurred at the corner of Market and Fourteenth streets, and caused a good deal of excitement. The boy was not hurt very badly, his foot being mangled a little, and seemed more frightened than injured. The name of the driver is unknown.

Fire Committee.

Last evening the fire department committee met, the following members present: Chairman Butts, Messrs. Butts, Otto, Baird, Wills, Waterhouse and Hahn. Chief Healy and Clerk Danenberg also participated. Bids for repairing the Atlantic engine house were opened and the contract let to Jerry O'Brien at his bid of $275. Bids for repairing the Eighth ward engine house will be received by a sub-committee.

A DARING ROBBERY.

Or Series of Robberies Perpetrated by a Prominent Young Man—Got $300 in Clothing From the Firm He Worked For.

A prominent young man was arrested Thursday night on a charge of larceny and when the facts became known about town yesterday, the friends and relatives could hardly believe the story of his error.

Noah Zane, Jr., son of Mr. Noah Zane, of Pleasant Valley, had been employed for some months past as a salesman in the Misset Clothing Parlors on Market street, and up to a couple of days ago was one of its trusted employees, when the proprietors of that establishment began missing goods from the stock, the idea that young Zane was implicated in their disappearance never entered their minds.

After several weeks had elapsed from the time of the missing of the first lot of goods and the stock was going down at an alarming rate, the police were consulted and Lieutenant Ingram and Chief Bennett took the case in hand and worked diligently the first lot of goods they located some of the missing clothing and had discovered the thief. They informed the Misset people, who at once had young Zane arrested and Thursday night he was confined in the lock-up to await developments.

The young man denied the charge strongly at first, but after he saw that it was useless to deny his guilt, admitted to Lieutenant Ingram that he had taken clothing to the amount of $500, and had disposed of several suits to friends at a very low cost. He also admitted having sold suits and trousers to two second hand clothing houses, and an investigation showed that a number of articles thus disposed of were pants worth $7, which he sold as low as $1. Most of these goods were secured and returned to the Misset company and the proprietors agreed that if their loss was made good they would not prosecute Zane. When this was learned relatives took the matter up and made good the amount.

The case is a peculiar one in many respects than one. How the young man could repeatedly get away with goods of this kind without exciting suspicion is hard to understand. The supposition that he had a confederate who had assisted him was knocked out by young Zane, who admitted that he alone was to blame. He secured most of his booty by throwing it over a transom into a hall which leads to Fourteenth street.

The family had the freely expressed sympathy of the general public and it is hoped that the lesson so dearly learned will be one that will result in making the young man who, previous to this occurrence, had a bright future before him, a wiser and better man.

Cleveland Excursion.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie railway will run an excursion to Cleveland, Ohio, Saturday, July 25, under the auspices of Excelsior Lodge I. O. O. F. No. 40, for their members and friends. The public is cordially invited to join this excursion. Arrangements have been made for all who wish to enjoy a daylight ride on Lake Erie to Put-In-Bay and return, with three hours for dinner at this delightful resort, on the 26th. Full particulars can be had from any member of the lodge. No efforts will be spared to make this a most delightful excursion.

OPERA AT THE PARK.

The Coming Engagement of the Lyric Opera Company Next Week.

The approaching engagement of the Lyric opera company at the Wheeling park casino is being looked forward to with interest by the lovers of music. If the weather is favorable next Monday evening it is safe to say the casino will be taxed to its full capacity to accommodate the audience that will hear the opening opera, "Chimes of Normandy." The Lyric company is made up of well known artists, and is not the usual summer barn-storming aggregation that infests the country. It is under the management of Mr. A. J. Levi, of Charles Frohman's forces, who has picked out the best talent to be had for the engagement at the park casino. The Lyric company is not a regular traveling organization, but one gotten up especially for the Wheeling engagement, composed of people who have been playing at the leading metropolitan playhouses. The company has been rehearsing for the two weeks' engagement here, in New York for three weeks.

The Wheeling street railway will have cars ready to transport the people to Benwood, North Wheeling, Martin's Ferry and Bridgeport upon the arrival in town of the motor that leaves the park at 11 o'clock.

A GREAT DECREASE

In Field Operations in the West Virginia Oil Fields.

In Interior West Virginia there has been a great decline in field work, and it can be largely attributed to the scarcity of desirable territory. Wetzel county still holds out some inducements, but others that have been more or less famous for big wells seem to have run their course. In Tyler county, the Kanawha Oil Company drilled its No. 7 Anthony Smith deep into the sand and has a duster. Hagin Bros. & Co.'s well on the Chisler lot, is making 29 barrels an hour. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled through the Gordon at its No. 1 on the B. F. Haines farm, and has a rank duster. The well is located southwest of the deep Flat run development and west of Mannington. In the Fairview district the same company has completed its No. 13, on the Conway heirs' farm, and found nothing in the Big Injun. Southeast of the Kyle pool on Indian creek, the same company has drilled in its No. 4 Andrew Seckman and will have a 15-barrel producer.

KRAUS BROS.

A Summer at the Shore.

Is without enjoyment to a young man who is not properly attired for it. There is nothing better for summer wear than SERGE, if it is a good Serge, and no other material is more generally becoming a man. There is such a wide difference in the qualities of Serges, however, that if one is not himself a judge he should be advised in the matter of selection. Permanence of color, ability to hold the shape, are qualities that are essential to the best grades such as we offer at very reasonable prices.

White Duck Trousers, particularly the Linen Duck, are a dress addition to go with a Serge Suit.
